Mission of the JROTC program: To motivate young people to be better citizens.
JROTC Instructors

Lieutenant Colonel Dale Johnson(SAI)

First Jose Sergeant Vazquez(AI)
The battalion commander controls the staff through the battalion executive officer and the companies through the company commanders while maintaining the final approval authority in the cadet chain of command. The cadet must be able to show responsibility and apply common sense and judgment in the solving of problems.
The XO supervises, directs, and coordinates the cadet battalion staff. The XO keeps the cadet battalion commander informed of the status of projects assigned to the staff. The XO assumes command of the cadet battalion in the absence of the cadet battalion commander.

The battalion command sergeant major is the principal cadet enlisted assistant to the battalion commander. As the senior enlisted member of the cadet corps, the command sergeant major supervises the other noncommissioned officers (NCOs) of the battalion and companies.
The battalion adjutant also known as the S-1 is administrative assistant to the battalion commander. The adjutant is also responsible for performing other administrative duties as assigned by the battalion commander, battalion executive officer, or the instructor staff.
The battalion S-2 assists the battalion commander and the instructor staff in matters pertaining to unit security and enforces the provisions of the security requirements for the battalion.
The battalion S-3 assists the battalion commander in the preparation, conduct, and supervision of all training activities of the cadet battalion. Additionally, the S-3 keeps the commander advised on the progress of training within the battalion.
The battalion logistics or supply officer is responsible for the maintenance, security, record keeping, issue, and turn-in of all U.S. government property. The S-4 coordinates the securing of property with the S-2.
This officer publicizes as many of the activities of the Army JROTC program as possible to create an outstanding image of the cadet battalion and to reinforce the image of the school.
A good company commander is an outstanding leader with lots of initiative. Company commanders get things done. A company commander provides the why and how to accomplish the assigned mission. They must then check and inspect to ensure that what needed to be done is being accomplished.

The company first sergeant is responsible to the company commander for administrative matters and works as a team to accomplish all the tasks the company is responsible for. Also, the 1SG submits promotions and recommendations to the company commander before submitting to the S-1.
